Foreign exchange retained its irregular characteristics, remittances to Paris hardening slightly, while lires suffered another decline. Rates on neutral countries were more variable but Swiss and Dutch rates ruled steady. The noteworthy feature of the Bank of England statement was the gain in gold of approximately $5,- 000,000.

An irregular tone prevailed in the narrow bond market. Liberty * 1-2s were quoted at 99.54 to 99.50. Total sales (par value) aggregated $3,200.
